RUNNING FOR PUBLIC OFFICE

Step One:

Are You Ready?

Find out by taking this quick self-assessment quiz.

Nine in 15 is a nonpartisan grassroots initiative that aims to improve the quality of life in Northeast Florida by encouraging qualified candidates, particularly women, to run for public office and providing information to help them campaign successfully. The initiative also promotes the appointment of more women to public policy boards and commissions. In general, Nine in 15 works to raise public awareness of the unique contributions women make to political discourse and action and to address women's underrepresentation in elected and appointed positions.

Nine in 15 is not a formal organization and does not endorse or fund candidates. For more information or to be added to our mailing list, write info@Ninein15.com

Nine in 15 offers this self-assessment tool to help you determine your readiness to run for public office. These questions will help you think deeply about your choice and, should you decide to run, the challenges you may face and your ability to fast-track to success.

Research shows that women typically wait to be “invited” to consider running for political office. Even when they are, studies reveal, they tend to assume--often wrongly--that they are not qualified or have not had the right training to launch a campaign. Other research demonstrates that most candidates, male or female, lack deep knowledge about how to run a campaign and raise money successfully or even what type of experience a candidate should possess before launching.

This self-assessment tool can help you decide if you are ready to run for political office. Although it is designed with women in mind, men, too, may find it useful. It's meant to reveal strengths and weaknesses that can lead to campaign pitfalls and peaks: important information to have before you announce your candidacy.

Reflect on each question, answering yes or no. You may want to tally your affirmative and negative responses as you consider your options.
